

May the Lord Bless You

PSALM 128

1. Blest is eve - ry-one who fears the Lord; blest is eve - ry-one who
2. Loved ones flour-ish-ing with - in your house, child-ren plant-ed in the

The first system of music features a treble and bass staff in 4/4 time with a key signature of one flat. The melody in the treble staff includes accents and a sim. marking. The bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment.

walks in His ways. You shall sav - or all your work's re - ward, and way of truth. These are bless-ings for the man who vows to

The second system continues the melody and accompaniment, with the treble staff showing a melodic line and the bass staff providing a steady harmonic support.

it shall be well with you all your days. May the Lord bless you, bless you from wor-ship the Lord, and fear Him too!

The third system continues the musical setting, with the treble staff melody and the bass staff accompaniment.

Zi - on, pros-per your hand and give you life! May you live to see your child - ren's child - ren— peace for the peo-ple of His de - light!

The fourth system continues the musical setting, with the treble staff melody and the bass staff accompaniment.

The fifth system concludes the musical setting, with the treble staff melody and the bass staff accompaniment.